FOREWORD

by Adriaan Hoogendijk

This book by Marsja van Kilsdonk is a magical book. Marsja has a way of drawing us into her own development that, before we know it, we're looking at our own development too.

She challenges us to step away from life as a 'wallflower' and instead to let our talents bloom, to come to know, accept, heal and overcome the inner obstacles that stand in the way.

Marsja wishes everyone the freedom to be real, to truly show up, to no longer hide, from ourselves or from others. Because it is our right to become who we truly are.

In this book, Marsja shows us that even with a dramatic childhood, it is possible to become a walking success story. And it also becomes clear that you don't get there in one go. That life keeps offering new challenges, which is precisely how we can rise into a higher consciousness.
